CBx TRAINING SERIES

(compiled in collaboration with Innovate UK)

We've been working hard to develop our new series of tailored cross-industry courses to provide energy and carbon literacy, and the skills to understand and manipulate resulting data for valuable communication. Utilising the learning from Innovate UK's £8million funded Building Performance Evaluation Programme, our series of one-day workshops have been designed to accommodate delegates from across the industry, and to endorse a joined-up understanding of their distinct roles and influence over the performance gap.

"For a novice like me, the exercises structured the complex task of reviewing building energy-use into meaningful steps involving validation, analysis, comparison and reconciliation of data. The "data interrogation" set made me feel like a detective at work!!"
- ATTENDEE, DAY 1

"A very informative day that covered all the key energy topics and equipped me with the knowledge and practical tools to go away and really start to drive down energy consumption"
- ATTENDEE, DAY 2
